Company Continental Matador Rubber is looking for candidate (m/f) for position: Explore Tires R&D Trainee Program

(Job ID: 61007BR)

Description

The goal of the program is to provide a fast track into Research&Development Tires offering a wide spread of challenging opportunities for qualified engineers and scientist.

As a member of the Continental Explore Program, you will be part of a multicultural, highperformance team that shapes its own training initiative and charts its own voyage of discovery through the world of Continental. In the space of about two years you will not only work on stateofheart technological projects but also deal with current business issues, as well as presenting the results of your work in front of colleagues from R&D Tires. In addition, you will broaden your experience through a three-month long international plant assignment and familiarize yourself with our customer requirements in the sales sector. During this period, you have the opportunities to arrange trainings (technical or soft skills), whenever your team regards it as necessary. The name says it all: Within the Continental Explore Program you are expected to explore what Continental has to offer and show initiative. How you manage your career and talent is up to you, although expert support is always there when you seek it.
